

Please read carefully the below mentioned terms and conditions

1. Exclusivity: As a form of reciprocation for the marketing investments that we make in each of you during our early stages, we would like you to stay exclusive and do not register/signup with any similar platform/website/app for a period of 12 months from the date of this agreement. Should you ever have any questions about the competitive nature of an app or platform that you see, please feel free to check in with us at contact@celebfie.com and we'd be happy to explore and clarify.

2. Representation and Fair Use: In order to facilitate our being able to promote your personal brand integrated with our marketing campaigns, you permit CelebFie to refer, attribute, quote, and use your name/social media accounts across all our graphic, textual, video, and audio content.

3. Commercial: We are offering a 25-75 revenue share split in favor of our early celebrity adopters. By checking this box, you agree that you permit us to withhold 25% of all revenues that you accrue via CelebFie.

4. Non-Disclosure: You agree that all interactions, materials, discussions and specific information related to CelebFie is proprietary to us, and you will not share or disclose any such information, intellectual property disclosures, or material revelations with any individual, business or organization without express written consent from us.
